Late, But Not Lost

Crisis in Mills

Highway Audit

THE 20TH CENTURY traveler, like merchants of old, goes long distances and employs a letter of credit to sustain him in far lands. In common parlance — your gasoline credit card.

It's fascinating to watch the gyrations of the big oil companies' bookkeeping departments as they receive and sort and bill out to you all those chits you signed while on the road. Those chits are like checks — they may be late in presentation for payment, but they're never lost.

Last Saturday the mail delivered to me one lone chit. It was from a suburban filling station in Wilkes-Barre, Pa., and the date was September 15, 1950 — almost five months ago.

But I'm not surprised that it finally got here. Back in 1938 I drove west out of Death Valley and gassed up at the loneliest filling station in all the California Mojave desert. There's a ticket, I thought, that'll be lucky if it gets home.

It did.

THE STAR got a telegram this morning from King Features Syndicate, New York, which supplies us with part of our comics:

"Owing to emergency no mail or express yet moving from this area, but we will expedite your feature mats to you quickest way as soon as possible."

The switchmen's strike is beginning to tell on all American business activity. If you are planning to mail anything other than first-class letters and there's a weight limit on them — you had better check first with Hope Post Office. A nation-wide embargo is in effect.

THE LEGISLATURE this week is attempting to put through a bill which would have an audit made of the State Highway Department.

Already passed by the senate, the bill is before the house — with the McMath administration insisting it is merely a political attack. It will be granted by all disinterested citizens that a highway audit generally produces discomfort regardless who is governor. But the fact remains there should be some regular and consistent system of audits by which the administration of highway funds can be reported to the people.

As far as disclosures are concerned, the people of Arkansas are shock-proof — and can be depended on to weigh the facts fairly.

Plan to Make Small Schools Pay Fair Share

HOPE, Feb. 6.—A four-member Arkansas committee today announced its plan to make small schools pay a fair share of the cost of the state's educational system. The committee, which was organized last year, has been working on the plan for several months. It is now ready to submit its report to the legislature.

The plan is a "teacher-in-residence" plan. It calls for the state to pay the salary of a teacher who is assigned to a small school. The teacher would be paid by the state, but would live in the school. This would save the state the cost of housing the teacher. The plan also calls for the state to pay the cost of the teacher's transportation. The committee believes that this plan would make it possible for small schools to pay a fair share of the cost of the state's educational system.

The committee also has a plan for the state to pay the cost of the teacher's transportation. The committee believes that this plan would make it possible for small schools to pay a fair share of the cost of the state's educational system.

AIR FORCE "SURVIVAL GUN"—Latest aid for USAF bomber crews forced down in remote areas is the "survival gun" shown here. It weighs only three and a half pounds and, when broken down for inclusion in a one-man survival kit, is only 14 inches long. Assembled, as shown at bottom, it is 28 inches long. The rifle, which holds four cartridges in the clip and one in the chamber, is remarkably accurate for shooting small game, main source of food for stranded crewmen. It has been issued to training crews at Omaha, Neb.

U.S. Tanks

The fighting raged almost to the outskirts of Seoul.

The Chinese tanks duelled with the Allied columns. Artillery thundered and United Nations planes roared down on the Red forces.

Chinese anti-aircraft fire knocked down one marine corair over the front lines.

The Chinese were bringing reinforcements across the frozen Han river and mounting what appeared to be a big effort to halt Allied tanks.

In 13 days the Allied thrusts have killed or wounded 97,000 Red troops.

The Chinese possibly even were launching their own long-expected offensive against the Allies south of Seoul. If so, they were striking on the opening day of the year of the rabbit.

There no longer is any doubt about the whereabouts of the enemy, an Allied officer said. They are right here where we are.

The hills are alive with Chinese and Korean Reds. They were digging in everywhere, despite an estimated toll of 57,000 dead and wounded Reds in 13 days.

Switchmen

Efforts to settle the wage-hour dispute behind the walkout continued before the national (railroad) mediation board in Washington.

In Chicago, a federal court hearing of government contempt charges against the union's leadership went into another day. The contempt charge is based on the December strike, not the current one.

The strike started a week ago today.

The crippling railroad strike ended in the New York area today, spokesman for major carriers said, and the week-long walkout appeared nearing an end in several other cities.

The New York Central, Pennsylvania, and the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroads said there was a general back-to-work movement among those carriers today.

Switchmen and other rail workers made little by the "sick call" walkout would be back on the job today.

All three lines started restoration of long distance service immediately.

There were similar reports of Boston, Washington, Baltimore, and dozens of other cities.

In Chicago, one of the country's main rail centers, an army spokesman said there was no indication that the "sick call" walkout was nearing an end.

But a rail union official in Philadelphia said some 1,400 union members had been ordered to return to work in the Philadelphia terminal division of the Pennsylvania railroad. Pennsylvania workers have been returning to work in New York since Sunday.

Other rail workers were reported going back to work in Baltimore and Washington and on some lines in several other cities.

Spokesmen for both the New York Central and the New Haven said the back-to-work movement started early today. But both carriers said the long distance schedules, although expected to be greatly expanded today, still would not be normal.

Some of the back-to-work calls were reported by carriers after an appeal to the strikers from Mobilization Director Charles E. Wilson.

Wilson, in a nationwide broadcast from the White House, said the country's defense effort was being handicapped by a "creeping paralysis" of the railroad transportation system.

Marriage Waiting Period Law Takes Beating

Little Rock, Feb. 6.—(AP)—The three-day waiting period for marriages, required by Arkansas law, has been taking a beating in Pulaski county, records at the county clerk's office show.

An inquiry by a spurned spouse for information on obtaining an annulment of a "quickie" marriage revealed yesterday that 33 of the 100 couples who got marriage licenses here in January obtained a waiver on the law. Eighteen of them were married by justices of the peace who have offices in the courthouse.

A 39-year-old Washington, D. C., man wrote County Clerk R. S. Peters about obtaining an annulment from his marriage to a Conway, Ark., woman.

They had said they married the woman the first day they met after a mail-order romance, and she left him a week later.

"We had fun, but she pulled a fast one on me," the letter said.

"I want to leave a message for Sheriff Lane. If you'll be so kind as to give it to him. He asked me to meet him at nine o'clock this morning at Greengarden. Tell him I'll be delayed half an hour or so. Thanks."

After he received the phone, he turned slowly away and looked at Lisa. "That's not," he said. "I hope I didn't awaken you."

"Oh, no," Lisa said quickly, and there was a pause. "Excuse me..." Another pause, and then, "Yes!"

Long-term Investment

that pays daily dividends

THESE days thoughtful people turn their minds to the durability of things they purchase.

But it's rare when doing your duty turns out to be the best way to satisfy your heart's desire.

That's what's so marvelous about this '51 Buick.

If you picked a car just for the lift it gives you—your pride in its power—or its generous comfort—you couldn't make a better choice.

But make note of this:

That gleaming new push-bar forefront, which greets your eye with flashing beauty, contains 25 grille bars made of stamped steel, individually mounted to "give" and come back unharmed. Combined with a massive, wrap-around bumper, fortified by two stalwart "bumper bombs" and two added uprights, it gives unsurpassed protection.

Springs of stout spiraled steel on all four wheels let your wheels curtsy over bumps, while you ride level as a lance. But they also need no servicing, and breakage is virtually unknown.

Buick's great-powered engine is a Fireball, wondrously lively and eager at the mere touch of your toe—but it also wrings extra power from every drop of fuel, and has the mechanical perfection that comes only from years of experience with this basic design.

Dynaflow Drive gives you effortless smoothness of control—but it also eliminates clutch repair bills, saves tires, eases strain on the whole driving mechanism, from engine to differential.

The road-steady gait of a Buick assures relaxed security—and is also evidence that you have a durable, deep-silled, X-braced frame beneath you. However you check it, you'll discover this: The things that make you yearn for a Buick on first acquaintance, are the very same things that make Buick such a smart long-time buy.

Better see your Buick dealer—soon.

Standard equipment, accessories and trim illustrated are subject to change without notice.

No other car provides all this:

Minister Feels Good Again

HADACOL Supplies Vitamins B1, B2, Niacin and Iron Which His System Lacked

Here is something worth remembering. When you are not feeling well, you are unable to accomplish very much, your working power is limited, your ambition is deadened and you feel like you want to quit doing anything.

R. M. Garrett, Route 1, Box 28-A, Starke, Fla., is a minister and when he began feeling bad, he did something.

Rev. Garrett began taking HADACOL and he says he now feels good. HADACOL supplied vitamins B1, B2, Niacin and Iron in which his system was deficient.

Here is what Rev. Garrett says about HADACOL:

"I am a minister, 70 years old, and can truthfully say that HADACOL was a God-send to me as I had been sick, could not sleep, and could not eat anything without suffering much pain. I was not able to work any and I felt bad all the time. One of my brothers-in-law said: 'Why don't you get some HADACOL and take it?' I did, and now I feel like a different man and can work all day. That has been 5 months ago. Before I took half the bottle, I could tell a wonderful change had taken place for the better. I can gladly recommend it to anyone."

Group Will Take Probe to White House

Washington, Feb. 6 —(AP)—Senate investigators announced today they plan new moves to back up their charges that a White House aide and others have tampered with the making of big government loans.

Senator Fulbright (D-Ark.) told reporters a special subcommittee he heads will reopen its inquiries to explore further into Reconstruction Finance Corp. loans.

In a subcommittee report approved Friday by the full senate banking committee, of which his group is the investigating arm, three members of the RFC board of directors were charged with having submitted improperly to "dictation" by Donald Dawson, an adviser to President Truman, and others.

Dawson, who returned from a trip to Brazil yesterday, had no immediate comment.

Fulbright said his group wants more information about:

1. The reason why the RFC loaned $1,500,000 to George D. Sax to build a new hotel in Miami Beach, Fla., and whether Sax is an associate of big time gamblers and Chicago politicians. He said he wants to know whether the loan served the public interest, as required by law.

2. Circumstances behind a $300,000 loan to a firm headed by RFC Director C. Edward Rowe.

3. Why the RFC directors made some loans to the Central Iron & Steel Co., of Pennsylvania, in the face of subordinates' recommendations that the loans should not be made.

Housewives Assured Meat Is Plentiful

Toledo, O., Feb. 6 (AP)—The government assured housewives today they will be able to buy adequate supplies of meat in the future at legitimate prices.

Black marketeers in the meat business, said Price Chief Michael DiSalle, will find profiteering difficult. He called them "first class fifth columnists" and said he would hate to be the first one to get caught.

Within a few days, DiSalle told about 250 Toledoans in a speech last night, his office of price stabilization will issue two orders designed to keep these meat prices chiselers out of business.

One order will regulate the slaughter of livestock. The other may require meat wholesalers and retailers to make regular reports on operations, his aides said.

The first order, officials of the agency said, will distribute animals to established slaughterers, preventing black marketeers from setting up fly-by-night slaughter houses.

The second, DiSalle continued, will keep meat supplies moving through legitimate channels of distribution and enable the housewife to buy adequate meat supplies from her regular butcher or market at legal ceiling prices.

DiSalle himself, who chose his home town Toledo to make his first major speech since he was named OPS chief, did not say exactly what this second order would require.

However, if, as his aides say, it makes meat dealers tell the government their transactions, it would provide a check on those selling at above ceiling prices.

Black marketeers of the past have used a trick of setting up phony companies. Through these they sell meat to themselves, sometimes two or three times, at higher and higher prices.

"We know," DiSalle continued, that it takes two to make a black market — the buyer as well as the seller — and this time we're going after both."

New Attorneys To Be Questioned on Communism

Little Rock, Feb. 6 —(AP)—Attorneys applying for licenses to practice in Arkansas are going to have to sign sworn statements as to whether they are or have been affiliated with the Communist party.

This was decreed by the state Supreme court yesterday. Attorneys already licensed will not be affected, the court said. The court said answers to its questionnaire would be matters

DOROTHY DIX How to Be Popular

Dear Miss Dix: I have caught my husband making love to another woman. What should I do? Should I act indifferent, say nothing to them but just leave their presence and act as if nothing had happened? Or should I let them know that I know and make a scene? Or should I blame it on the woman and tell my husband that I do not blame him; that it was the woman's fault, and make believe I trust him? Or should I try to make him jealous by having a flirtation with another man?

Answer: No woman ever confronts a more difficult problem than does the wife who discovers her husband making love to another woman. Her whole future and that of her children is at stake. In no other crisis in her life will she need calmness and sureness of judgment with wisdom to guide her in making her decision as to what to do about it? Yet how can she when her wisdom is clouded by jealousy and when her heart is broken with the knowledge of her husband's disloyalty?

Is He Serious? Reviewing the suggestions that this wife makes and to the different lines of conduct a wife might take, I should say that whether or not the wife acted indifferently when she caught her husband making love to another woman would depend on how seriously she thought he meant it. Many men who really love their wives are no more help making love to a good-looking woman who is handy than they can help breathing.

I have known many women with husbands like that who were able to view their husband's flirtations with an amused eye, and who were certainly better off and happier than they would have been if they had broken up their homes, divorced their unstable husband and half-orphaned their children.

In any event, a wife makes a mistake in making scenes when she catches her husband making love to another woman. Her tears and reproaches and recriminations only drive him farther away from home and her and to the woman who makes things pleasant and gay for him and who flatters him instead of accusing him of being a criminal.

Equally foolish is it for the wife to try to rouse her husband's interest in her by making him jealous. Two wrongs do not make a right and because the husband goes on the loose is no reason for his wife doing so. And, anyway, the children should at least have one parent whom they can respect.

Dear Miss Dix: I am a rather successful singer and am engaged to be married. If I marry I wish to continue my career, but my fiancée objects. Thinks it will ruin my career. I don't think I will be happy. How can I make him understand that all women cannot be happy with just a husband and home?

Answer: I am afraid you will find that you cannot have your cake and eat it too, and that you will have to decide which you care most for — your man or your ambition. Alas, for women careers and marriage no more mix than oil and water for the very conclusive reason that no woman can make a success of being in two places at the same time and holding down two jobs, each one of which takes all of the time and energy and intelligence she possesses.

A man may marry and add the inspiration of a wife and the comforts of a home to his career. In fact, if a man marries the right sort of a woman, she helps him to succeed. But when a woman marries, the case is entirely different. She is handicapped by her household duties, by child-bearing, by her husband's expecting her to be as good a housekeeper and as much of a companion to him as if she had no outside interest. He resents the calls her career make upon her.

Perhaps these things shouldn't be but they are. Of course, there are a few men who are big enough to sympathize with their wives' ambitions, and other men who are willing enough to live on their wives' earnings, but you will find

One of Quads in Boston Succumbs

Boston, Feb. 5 —(AP)—The little life of Karen Elizabeth, tiniest of the three-day-old Allen quadruplets, ended last night and all Boston was sorry.

The wee infant — one pound and two ounces — died at 11:45 p. m. (EST) after a day-long attempt by doctors to bring her out of a "cyanotic spell" which left her unable to breathe properly.

The four babies, two boys and two girls, were born last Friday to Mrs. Helen Allen, petite 31-year-old wife of Policeman Robert J. Allen, 41.

When Karen died, Dad Allen said: "It was God's will. But they tell me the other three are fine and we're tickled to death for them."

He said he planned to tell his wife, who is still in hospital, today and added: "But I'm positive she won't be disappointed. We had expected three and hoped for three. And one day they'll all be together again in Heaven."

A doctor at Children's hospital said "gross prematurity" robbed Karen of life. The babies arrived about six weeks before they were expected.

But Karen's sister, Kathleen and her brothers, Robert Jr. and Timothy were reported "fine." They had their first feeding yesterday — a whole spoonful of glucose and water.

that most of the ladies who have careers have also two or three divorces.

Dear Miss Dix: I am a widow in my seventies. A man in his thirties wants to marry me. Would it be wise for me to consider matrimony with a man so much younger than myself? I am financially independent and healthy enough to be able to go out when I please, but I am still lonely.

Answer: Don't be puzzled about that any longer. You know perfectly well that no man in his thirties wants to marry a woman in her seventies for anything else but her money.

The highway department has been authorized to change full toll until the cost of erection of the Fulton Bridge is paid for by the traffic up to but not exceeding 25 years. Highway traffic in the past has been handled by ferry since long before the Civil War.

British Pancake Race Won by Housewife

Oincy, Eng., Feb. 6 —(AP)—Mrs. Isabel Dix, 35-year-old wife of a male nurse, won the tiny market town's ancient pancake race today with a 12-minute 121 seconds — a 12th for the male and female Lancers, Kas., to beat in the can town's own flapjack race.

Mrs. Dix was six skittles ahead as she finished the 115-course from Parish Pump church door.

Mrs. Dix tossed her 35th birthday cake into the air, caught it three times before starting at the Bull Tavern and fish at the door of the Old Peter and Paul church.

Foreign Policy Main GOP Issue

Washington, Feb. 6—(AP)—Republican leaders here today for the first time since the 1948 campaign, are showing political field day.

Lightning Day box supper here tonight, Republican leaders gathered in the Truman administration building the country to the brink of war.

Members of the Senate and House charged that the Democrats bungled the campaign in Korea and stymied military progress and had encouraged inaction by throwaway sheets provided to translate these charges into a campaign asset. Senator Aiken (R-Ill.) called the GOP campaign committee into session to see what can be done to raise some $200,000. That amount party leaders think necessary to defeat 20 Republican opponents and to make inroads in the Democratic ranks that are at stake in 1952.

The box supper rally last night drew about 1,000 people, an overflowed estimated at more than 1,500.

Movie Actor George Murphy, who is in the city, and Fred Astaire, who is in the city, are putting on a pep rally at the Ritz-Carlton, a long supporter of Senator Taft, who was disclosed as the editor of the throwaway.

He led off the big guns at the GOP "aim at peace" world and the limitation of armed forces to the absolute minimum to which the Korean war brought this country.

On the other hand, Rep. Aiken, through the assistant house speaker, said the Republican Congress had tried to build a group air force and had to build a super-aircraft carrier.

But the administration was too slow to let them get away with this like that," Aiken said.

Now it seems we need planes and ships. Now we need the navy and wish we had them. The Republican both parties was not so dumb."

LIFE SAVER—In winter uniform, Cpl. Harvey J. Mathis, of Castleboro, Va., training at the Air Force base near Omaha, Neb., tries out the new survival gun, designed to enable bomber crews downed in remote areas to hunt small game. The rifle, which holds five cartridges, weighs only three and a half pounds. It is 33 inches long and only 14 inches long when broken down for inclusion in a new one-man survival kit.

WELCOME WINDFALL—Supply-short G.I.'s on the ground below and this a welcome sight as they look skyward in South Korea. A C-119 "flying boxcar" of the U. S. Far East Air Force drops combat command parachutes, rations and gasoline to the fighters below.

OUT FOR VENGEANCE—Vowing to kill 100 Koreans to avenge the death of his brother, Roy Shadrack, right, of Skunk Fork, W. Va., is sworn into the Army by Capt. Robert Cashman in the Cincinnati, Ohio, recruiting office. The brother was Pvt. Kenneth Shadrack, 22, first U. S. soldier to be killed in Korea. Five-foot-two-inch Roy, 25, was turned down by the Army as underweight. He went back a week's eating spree and finally made the grade. He aims to kill 10 Koreans for every year of his late brother's age.

ABIN DEATH—As men fought in the death not far away, Dr. Charles William Daniel, about to give birth to a child, lies on a stretcher and after a car at her husband frantically seeks a haven of safety. (Photo by NEA-Acme Staff Photographer Bert Ashworth.)

Dr. Daniel, 38, was a former president of the executive board of both the Southern and Georgia Baptist conventions. He had 48 years service as a minister.

Dr. Daniel came here as pastor in 1906 and was transferred to Richmond, Va., in 1928. After serving seven years there he was sent to El Dorado Ark., where he served ten years before retiring.

World Day of Prayer to Be Observed Here

World Day of Prayer will be observed this year in 92 countries, and as is customary, the date of its observance will be the first Friday of Lent, which falls this year on February 9.

The chain of prayer will be made of millions of people worshipping in all corners and centers of the earth and praying in sixty different languages. Following the sun, it will be started in the Fiji Islands at dawn and continue westward from the crowded ports of Singapore and Shanghai into isolated villages of China and Pakistan from the African jungles to the Arctic wildernesses.

World Day of Prayer is interdenominational, interracial and international in scope, and the offering are divided between missionary work at home and abroad to bring the peoples of our country and the world into greater communion with each other through supplying their spiritual, educational and recreational needs. Last year a quarter million dollars was collected and used in this work.

All churches, fraternal, youth, charitable, civic and social groups are invited to join with the women of the church to make this Day a community wide as well as a world wide symbol of fellowship. This annual event is sponsored by women's devotional group throughout the world, and in this country by the United Council of Church women, an organization representing 10,000,000 women.

The prayer service in Hope will be held at the Episcopal church at three p.m. on Friday, February 9.

MacArthur Wants to Use Chiang's Men

Tokyo, Feb. 6—(AP)—General MacArthur is believed to have recommended to Washington that Chinese Nationalist troops be used against the Red Chinese forces in Korea and elsewhere.

He consistently has believed that Chiang Kai-shek's army should be used in broadened warfare against the Chinese Communists, informed sources said today.

The informant indicated MacArthur believes the Nationalists should be supported in a thrust against the Chinese mainland, as well as being used in Korea if desirable.

This strategy would be consistent with two fundamentals MacArthur has followed in his major military campaigns:

1—The full employment of all available power in a battle.

2—The old slogan of the Pacific war — "hit where they ain't."

It is believed here that Chiang Kai-shek's original offer to send Nationalist troops into battle against the North Koreans was declined in order to avoid giving the Chinese Communists an excuse to enter the campaign. That reason, military men say, is no longer valid.

High officers here point out that Peking originally was able to move its third and fourth field armies from south China to Manchuria because there was no fear of a Nationalist attack on the mainland. This was because the assignment of the U. S. Seventh Fleet to patrol the Formosan straits was accompanied by President Truman's injunction of June 27, preventing any Nationalist thrusts against the mainland.

Now the assessment of Communist strength in south China ranges from a contention that the Nationalists could walk ashore to a belief that the Reds are rebuilding their southern forces.

In any case MacArthur is understood to feel that even the threat of a Nationalist attack against the mainland would draw off sizable Communist forces from the northeast. This in turn would proportionately reduce the pressure on Allied forces fighting in Korea.

MacArthur has emphasized that "there can be no turning back" from the battle against communism in Asia. He made it plain he refused to let the orient as a whole and not just Korea.

Well done! Before an assembly of the students of Decatur High School, Decatur, Alabama, Joyce Crump, 16-year-old sophomore, is congratulated by Principal W. H. Jenkins for winning the $1,000 scholarship offered in the Third Lion Oil Scholarship Contest. To the right is Miss Mabel Poor, English teacher who sponsored Joyce's prize-winning essay.

Two Scholarship Contests Still Open—Winners Have Chance for Full 4 Years!

Subject of the essay for the Third Contest was "Why I'm Glad I'm an American." Joyce wrote much of it while baby-sitting at home with her 9-month-old cousin, little Margaret Rogers.

After completing her essay, Joyce took it to Miss Poor, who counseled her and encouraged her to send it in. Many teachers find essay topics make excellent class assignments.

Off to school for another busy day, Joyce hugs her mother, Mrs. Harriet Shaw Crump, 708 Jackson St., Decatur. Joyce is thrilled to know she's going to college, can hardly wait to use her Lion Oil Scholarship.
